Prof. Harvey Gives Good Address on Causes of War

Among the visitors at the regular Kiwanis meeting at the Driford on Tuesday evening were Mr. Justice Boyle, and Mr. H. J. Macdonald, of Edmonton, Kivnanian A. G. Gross, of Puyallup, Wash., and Messrs. Gould, Simpson and Thomson of Wetaskiwin.

The speaker of the evening was Prof. Harvey of the Department of Economics of the University of Alberta at his subject "The Causes of War." The Professor stated that there is more data available on the causes of war now than formerly. When the Bolsheviks gained access to the Russian archives many interesting documents were made available to the student, similarly when the German Republicans overthrew the Kaiser's government many interesting documents of an international nature were made public property, some of them having marginal notations made by the Kaiser and his ministers in their own handwriting. It was not known at the time the notations were made that later these would be published. But German documents have been published and fill 40 bulky volumes. Later the British and French documents were published.

In the speaker's opinion the economic factor as a cause of war has been over-estimated. War is less profitable than it used to be and also less respectable. The military cliques in the different countries are the greatest fomenters of war. In the last 50 years most European wars have had their origin in the Balkan States.

Dealing with the Great War, the speaker pointed out that Austria started it with its ultimatum to Serbia. Serbia might have accepted the terms of this document but it did not. Then Russia did not want to see Serbia injured. Germany became involved because she was an ally of Austria. She encouraged the Austrians to stand firm. France was an ally of Russia and then Britain took a hand in it. Each country was responsible for its own entry into the war. In each case there were, as always, a great many factors complicating the issue. Fear of what the other nations would do was one of these factors.

The situation at the present time is not very hopeful. The League of Nations brings leading statesmen of the different nations together, helps them to get acquainted with each other, and thus lessens the danger of war.

After the Professor had concluded his address, President V. C. French invited those present to ask any questions. Several were asked and an interesting discussion followed. Stewart Campbell led the singing, with Mrs. McMurdo at the piano.

ALBERTA PROSPECT CANADA'S FINEST LEGISLATORS HEAR

Alberta has the greatest possibilities of any province in the Dominion, declared Gordon A. Forster, U. P. A. member for Hand Hills, in moving adoption of the speech from the throne at the opening of the legislature on Friday afternoon.

The motion was seconded by Donald Macdonald, M.L.A. for Stony Plain, who dealt largely with conditions caused by the depression and means of seeking improvement. For one thing, he urged that the federal government be asked to take the issuing of currency and credit into its own hands.

"Alberta is well balanced for grass land, wheat land, and coarse grain production. With our irrigation systems, we are able to produce abundance of alfalfa and fodder besides vegetables. Our people and our animals can all be well fed and, unlike, we have known at the time of any province in the Dominion," declared Mr. Forster.

From the standpoint of agricultural production the season had been a favorable one. With a total estimated production of wheat amounting to 130,000,000 bushels from an average of 17 bushels per acre, the grain crop had been one of the best ever produced in the province, either from the standpoint of production or quality, said the speaker.

As the Dominion estimate of an average of 36 cents per bushel for the year's production, and valuation of $48,960,000, Mr. Forster said he considered these figures too high.

The problem of the drought area, in the south also was dealt with to a large extent. He declared that a solution had to be found.

"The situation at the present time is that the area is largely depopulated, but there are some thousands of settlers who wish to remain there if conditions will permit," said Mr. Forster.

"Hundreds of these settlers own their land, free of encumbrance, and possibly would move if there was a policy by which they might exchange their lands for lands elsewhere in the province. I believe the government would be well advised to consider this exchange of lands from a restricted area so that in the reestablishment of the district, the government would be in control of the lands that were vacated."

A policy of consolidation of mortgage companies' lands in the district so that these lands might be leased for grazing purposes was suggested by the speaker in dealing further with the problem of the drought area.

Immediate reduction of assessments to bring them in line with per levels, which was a grazing basis, also was essential he said. Enlargement of municipal units to cut down costs of local administration was another need.

Alberta's high position from the standpoint of agricultural production was dealt with by the speaker. The butter production total of 22,000,550 pounds for 1931 was the highest since 1924, but prices had hit the lowest point yet.

Alberta's high quality of seed grain, its exports of beef cattle, hog marketings which were estimated at 720,000 last year, were also touched upon by Mr. Forster.

TWO GRANDVIEW LADS ARE SENTENCED FOR WHEAT THEFT

Two youths, Leslie Clarke, 19, and his 17 year old brother were sent to Fort Saskatchewan jail by Magistrate R. M. Angus for stealing wheat from the granaries of neighboring farmers in the Grandview district, 30 miles west of Wetaskiwin. When attempting to deliver the stolen grain contained in two sleighs at the Alberta Pacific elevator they were arrested by Chief McIlhenny who had been notified by Constable Crouch, A.P.C., who was following the trail.

The youths at first denied that the wheat was stolen but eventually confessed to that and other thefts on the 22nd, 25th and 26th of January, in confessing the boys alleged that their father had called them at five o'clock in the morning when the thermometer registered 30 below.

The father, they said, had helped them hitch the two teams to sleighs and told them to steal a couple of loads of wheat and be careful not to get caught.

Light sentences were passed by the Magistrate on account of the youthfulness of the prisoners. Leslie, the oldest boy, was given six months for stealing from John Jackson, and four months for stealing from the Brinke farm. The younger boy, John Albert, got four and two months, the sentences to run concurrently. It is likely a charge will also be laid against the father.

Sunday next, February 14th, is St. Valentine's Day.

W. J. TEESDALE ACQUITTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Sittings of the Criminal Court are being held here this week with His Honor Mr. Justice Boyle presiding. The first case on the docket, to be disposed of was Rex vs. Wm. J. McClung acted for the prosecution, and Alex Knox for the defendant.

It is expected that the two other cases on the docket, namely, Rex vs. Mrs. Clara Wood, charged with arson, and Rex vs. Hasper, charged with wanton and furious driving occasioning actual bodily harm, will not be concluded until the end of the week.

The many friends of the bride and groom wish them many more years of peace and happiness.

FARMERS ARE BEING PAID PREMIUM FOR WHEAT

Caused by a keen demand the farmers throughout this community are being paid a premium for wheat, the price ranging from 3 to 5 cents above the regular market quotation. As a result of this increase in price, large quantities are being brought in and the merchants of Wetaskiwin and other centers where the premium is being paid, are being benefited by increased market quotation. ### TRUCK DRIVER OF EDMONTON FINED

Ponoka, Feb. 2—James Newman, a truck driver of Edmonton, hogged the road for twelve miles between Wetaskiwin and Hobbema so that, in spite of continually sounding his motor horn, Constable Crouch, A. P. C., could not pass until, taking a chance, he made a desperate effort where the road bested the Calgary truck. Newman was fined $20.00 and succeeded in getting in front. He stopped the truck and arrested the driver, who was convicted under the Motor Vehicles Act and fined $20.00 and costs for failing to have a motor horn fitted to his truck. As Newman returns from Turner Valley with his load of oil he is to face a charge of failing to allow a pursuing car right of way. The police car was damaged by flying gravel, which broke the headlights and badly cracked the windshield. Constable Reid of Ponoka, dealt with the case.

Wetaskiwin District Is Answering the Appeal

The first 100 mark should be easier if you come forward with your subscription now, in case you have not been approached by the Membership Committee.

Calgary has also a very full program for 1932, but is not on hand at time of writing.

Regina has also a very full program for 1932, but is not on hand at time of writing.

Three Rivers is considering Town Improvement, City Planning and Industrial Development. It is also planning the way of its influence and practical support in relieving the unemployed situation.

Regina called a meeting of public service bodies for the purpose of discussing policies under which relief work may be co-ordinated. Setting up a social service exchange with a central index system where all cases of relief are recorded to prevent overlapping. It is also considering a Family Welfare Bureau.

Quebec. The Board is assisting City Council in relief programs.

It is continuing Fire Prevention Campaign in which many other Boards of Trade have co-operated so well in 1930-1931.

Under the request of the Federal Minister of Agriculture, it is about to undertake a special limited program in research into the matter of the spread between the prices received by agriculturists for their products, and the price paid for the same goods by the ultimate consumer. It is felt that researches along this line will suggest opportunities for constructive developments towards improving the prices received and paid, and perhaps also a greater economy in the channels through which farm produce is marketed.

Arranged a Dominion-wide Round Table Conference to deal particularly with the organization and program of the Canadian Institute of Agriculture, which is to serve as a clearing house of information pertaining to this department.

Another prominent man of this organization said: "Public works for unemployment relief in Canadian towns and cities are speeding the implementation of many community improvements. Organized business is rendering a lasting service by assisting local authorities in planning of wise programs. The times present an unusual opportunity and scope for constructive efforts on the part of the Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce."

After considering the various activities of the different public bodies referred to above, it is very important that the citizens of both the city and rural districts do their part by assisting to place this community to the fore with a well supported, active Board of Trade and make the world realize that Wetaskiwin is on the map.

WETASKIWIN POST B.E.S.L. DID GOOD WORK LAST YEAR

At the annual meeting of the Canadian Legion, Wetaskiwin Post, B.E.S.L., held in the I.O.O.F. hall on January 10th, many important matters pertaining to the welfare of returned men were discussed. President MacEachern occupied the chair.

Splendid reports were given by the chairmen of the various committees, each indicating that much thought and time had been given to the matters under their observation. Appreciation by the Comrades was shown by hearty votes of thanks.

The committee on the "War Memorial" for Wetaskiwin as sponsored by the Wetaskiwin Post, submitted drawings of the proposed Memorial, together with certain figures on cost. After some discussion, the matter was left over until the next meeting in the hands of the same committee, with Comrade Baker added.

Comrade President MacEachern, in his annual address to the Post, pointed out to where returned men should be thankful that 1931 was past, as it had in many ways been a trying year for them. He resumed the Post's activities for the past year was more or less a revelation to most of the Comrades, as they had not realized that so much good work had been done both inside and outside of the Legion for returned men and their dependents.

The newly elected officers for 1932 are:

C. S. Bear—President
E. T. Williamson, Vice-President
F. Blackwell—Treasurer
J. F. Inglis—Secretary
Executive—W. Burrows, T. Paley, H. Lina, P. Blundell, S. Schell.

An executive meeting of the Wetaskiwin Post Canadian Legion, B. E. S. L., will be held in the office of J. F. Inglis, Sunday afternoon, Feb. 14, at 2 o'clock. All members of the executive are urged to be present.

BEER PARLOR VOTE UNLIKELY FOR 1932 OBSERVERS CLAIM

Edmonton, Feb. 6.—Alberta's liquor profits dropped to $1,738,354.22 in the government fiscal year ending March 31, 1931.

This was revealed in the annual report of R. J. Dinning, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, tabled in the legislature Friday afternoon by Hon. J. F. Lymburn, attorney-general. Gross sales, reached $4,678,109.07 and the gross profit was given as $1,809,553.78.

Nearly 9 per cent of the total sales were beer, ale and stout, totaling 3,542,000 gallons, with spirituous liquor sales amounting to 148,000 gallons, and wine sales 163,000 gallons. Gallonage tax was collected on 3,521,000 gallons of liquor manufactured in the province and disposed of to Alberta brewers, while another 360,000 gallons of beer was sold to brewers in other provinces.

There is little likelihood of a plebiscite on whether beer halls should be abolished or not, being submitted to the people of Alberta this year, according to opinions expressed at the parliament buildings Friday.

It is stated, however, that the government has not reached a decision on the matter, while the report from the special committee appointed to examine the petition for a plebiscite, has not yet been received.

The cost of a plebiscite would be around $100,000. With the province struggling for ways and means to balance its budget, there is little chance under present financial conditions of a plebiscite being granted, it is said.

There was one rumor that the government intends to grant a plebiscite before the next general election, in view of a petition having been received from 50,000 people of the province. There was no confirmation of that report in official circles.

Should the government decide not to grant a plebiscite, there may be representations for the other alternative being followed. That is one of acting upon the petition by amendment to the Liquor act, without need of taking a vote of the people—Journal.

MY ARCTIC YEAR

(By Carolyn K. F. Soper)

At my first sight of Baffin Island I was impressed by the hills, the sombre hills.

Countless square miles of rugged masses of granite with not a twig, leaf or blade of grass to soften their changeless savagery. In that whole world not a tree!

I wondered at first if it were possible ever to be reconciled to such a land. But I did. After the first phase of homesickness I was ready to be taken to the bosom of the land "that God gave Cain." Those hills became hills of home.

My husband and I arrived at Lake Harbor on the thirteenth of July, 1930. Our first concern was the construction for Canada's department of the interior: a warehouse and residence as a permanent research station.

We voyaged into the Arctic on the Hudson's Bay Company steamer Nasopie, which was the first that year to enter Hudson Strait. With it came the materials for the warehouse to be erected before the arrival of the government ship Beothic which was to bring our provisions, furniture and materials for the new house. It was expected during the month of September.

As our ship dropped anchor the shore was lined with natives eager to welcome us. Rifles were fired in salute, dogs howled, children shouted and cried, women babbled and laughed almost hysterically. It was a strange motley throng that presented itself to our gaze, as we stood riveted to the rail looking shoreward.

The Eskimos had flocked in from all directions, in boats loaded to the gunwales with squalid family possessions, old tents, stone lamps, dirty children, dogs and what not. They had pitched their tents on "naupeks" on the rocky shore near the post to be close at hand for the event of the year, the arrival of the first ship.

The unloading began at once. The Eskimos were not mere idle spectators. They had come by prearrangement as stowaways to help with the countless boxes that were dumped on the beach from the scows. To my surprise the women, too, went to work.

They swung their burdens on their backs and climbed the rocks with the strength and agility of the men. And many of them had babies in the large hood of their "kuletaks." No matter how strenuous the labor they engaged in, they never got rid of this handicap of infants. The idea of a creche or some parking place for babies under the supervision of some of the older children is unknown to them.

My first glimpse of Eskimo women was of them engaged in this back-breaking toil. To a white woman it appeared a strange proceeding. But that was only the beginning of what I learned of their capacity for arduous effort. They row boats, pitch tents and carry heavy bundles of caribou skins from the interior on the annual caribou hunt. And think nothing of it!

All Arctic visitors note the mildness of the natives. There is no doubt about their light-heartedness. Though I knew them not a word of the language, I could see that they teased and bantered as they wielded hammer and saw. And when they were taken with some special aspect of rolicking laughter, my husband would let me in on the joke.

But life was not all laughter that summer at Lake Harbor. A deadly epidemic broke out shortly after the Nasopie left. It was a time of tragedy and sadness. I was trained as a nurse, but never were such severe demands put on my strength and skill. In all too many cases there was no cure. For a time there was a death or two every day. In fact, one day four coffins passed along the rock-strewn flat to the little graveyard to the south of the warehouse. Presently the sickness subsided and the settlement once more looked on the sunny side of life.

It was now late August. The nights were turning cold and the last of the summer's flowers were dying away on the lowlands by the sea. The days were still bright and warm, but there was the tang of autumn in the air.

On the hillside the foliage of the diminutive shrubbery was already turning from green to the first brown and crimson of fall. Here and there a bearberry bush showed flaming scarlet against the drabness of rocky slopes. And one morning far to the north the high mountain plateau lay under a light dusting of the first snowfall.

At this time of year bird life was growing markedly scarce. On the lake old aquy ducks and loons were occasionally seen. Of land birds snow buntings and American pipits were the most numerous. Those were red-tailed days on which we saw a Greenland jaeger, a white gyrfalcon, or a band of early redpolls from farther north. At times I assisted my husband in his scientific collection of small specimens by using the little .410 shotgun.

After Mr. Soper commenced a local trigonometric survey by building rock cairns on the higher hills and taking angles with a theodolite, we went considerable distances on foot from the post. Frequently we saw big Arctic hares beginning to turn white for the winter sunning themselves on the slopes.

The views from the higher ranges were always wonderful. Often we sat entranced and watched the hills and valleys change color with the moods of the sky. In the summer and fall days there were many exquisite bits of scenery—cozy areas quite surprising in such harsh surroundings.

The views from the higher ranges were always wonderful. Often we sat entranced and watched the hills and valleys change color with the moods of the sky. In the summer and fall days there were many exquisite bits of scenery—cozy areas quite surprising in such harsh surroundings.

On the eve of the arrival of the Beothic we went on a coast survey with Moosa and Muttu, two of our Eskimo servants. I found that on an Arctic sea trip it can be bitterly cold even on the warmest day in summer.

As we rounded a cape near Egoeto Island we saw through a seaward channel a great column of smoke against the sky.

The ship, the ship, we cried. It was the Beothic at last, our home, our fuel, our everything.

Hurrying back to Lake Harbor, we were there in time to welcome it. It began its unloading that evening by the dim light of lanterns in a steady downpour which let even the Eskimo sense of humor.

Some Surprises for a Nurse
We had a banquet on board and a moving picture show. Farewells were said and the Beothic sailed away. Its receding smoke was our last link with civilization. For a year to come we would be isolated in the Arctic.

The work went on apace for my husband's four helpers, Moosa and Muttu. Mooskovit and Pee proved to be excellent carpenters.

At the same time there was much work for me. Almost daily there was a demand for some sort of medical attention for the Eskimos. There were after-effects of the devastating sickness of the summer.

There was much demand for bandages and liniment for children who would get mixed up in some kind of accident, but my services were not materially required for the arrival of babies. There was, for instance, Neve's case.

Neve was Moosa's wife and kept one of the cleanest tupiks I had seen. Moosa casually mentioned to my husband one afternoon that they expected a baby hourly. So present by I went down to the tent to assist the stock. To my immense surprise I found the baby had been born about an hour previously and the mother with the new-born on her back was already up and outside cleaning some sealskins.

By the middle of October our house was finished for the winter. That included the erection of an aerial and the installation of our radio. We were comfortably housed none too soon.

The last languid days of autumn had long since given way to cold winds, cloud wrack and driving snow. The country was now covered with many inches of snow and the lakes sheathed with three or four inches of ice.

Could this be the same Arctic where yesterday the flowers nodded so gaily and where pipits and longspurs and snow buntings once voiced their lilting melodies? How dreamlike it all seemed, how swift the approach and domination of the northern winter.

Even the hardy snow buntings had now disappeared. The ravens with dismal croaks haunted the settlement and would remain the whole winter through. In the harbor a few grungy gulls reluctant to leave winged lethargy over open bits of sea amidst the pan ice.

It was soon time for the Eskimos to build their igloos. They remain in their summer tupiks until well on in the early winter. Snow houses are warmer than tents, but they must ever in tupiks until heavy snowfalls have hardened in deep banks. Some families in fact live in their tents all winter by banking them with moss and loose snow.

In an Eskimo home there is no privacy. The whole family, plus visiting relatives or strangers, all sleep in a row, feet pointing to the rear and heads in a line at the inner edge of the sleeping platform.

Eskimo Women Lead Hard Lives
The women, by our standards, lead a hard life. They are up and around early sewing and cobbling, making or mending clothes, rearing children, cutting up game, cleaning and conditioning skins, pounding blubber and feeding and trimming the lamps.

They do not tan skins, but scrape them with a crescent of steel and bone. They sew no longer with bone, but now with steel needles. One peculiarity of an Eskimo woman's sewing is that she places the thimble, not on her thumb, but on her forefinger, and uses the side of it, not the tip.

Her hardest task is making and keeping in condition the sealskin boots for the family. These mukluks are almost knee-high, soft, light and waterproof. When the boots are worn for a time they become damp and harden. The women soften them again by chewing them, and many of the older women have their teeth worn away to the gums by this novel method of keeping the family shod.

This race is not prolific. The average family is of two or three children.

By the last of October snowshoes ing was ideal and we had many glorious tramps over hill and dale in search of hare and ptarmigan. The hare were plentiful, but the ptarmigan scarce, which was a disappointment for roasted or fried or stewed or boiled, they are a delight to the palate.

Caribou, hare and ptarmigan are the three dishes for the gourmets in this country. Few people really become fond of the Arctic staples, seal, walrus or bear.

On two occasions I went with Mr. Soper and Moosa on survey journeys by dog team and sledge, which was indeed an experience for a white woman in the Arctic.

For our noonday meals we halted in the lee of an island or a rock behind a barricade of snow blocks constructed by Moosa with saw and snow knife. With the prima stove roaring merrily away we soon had hot tea, and thawed out the frozen sandwiches.

After we left the smooth sea ice we had a tedious march through the valleys, and down hillside in our cross-country journey home. At times the bounding eager team of dogs were almost buried in the snowdrifts.

On the trail I wore a spare suit of my husband's caribou skin garments and I was not long in appreciating the marvellous comfort of Eskimo garb.

The two sexes dress much alike except that the women wear their "kuletaks" with a long tail behind, a short appendage in front and a much larger hood. This ampler hood is for the purpose of carrying their infants, inside it the youngsters are warm and cozy in the coldest weather.

When the mother wears two suits of deer skin without woolen underclothes the baby lies in contact with her bare back. The baby is often as not deposited in the hood innocent of clothing, in which case the body heat of the mother is transmitted directly to the infant. But the babies do have clothes of their own, soft little garments of hare skin, or the felt of the caribou tawn.

The 24th of May was celebrated by an ambitious tramp. A great deal of the higher ground was now free of snow but in the lower valleys we flourished through banks of it. En route we observed many arriving birds. On the way home I met the first spring flower, a minute purple saxifrage, blooming bravely on a hillside over-looking snow fields and the frozen sea. It is the first plant to blossom in the Arctic spring and unfolds its petals even when the nights are freezing.

A TRIAL ORDER WILL CONVINC

Though technically it was the beginning of summer on land early in June I went for a week's trip on the frozen sea. As there was in places water on top of the ice a large canoe was lashed to the sledge.

We made camp in the evening on a sandy beach below a rugged range of hills only a few feet from the colar ice which runs along the coast. The surroundings were indescribably wild. Brooks were babbling musically everywhere. There was no lack of crystal clear water in this land.

In the days that followed I enjoyed rare experiences in a country of surpassing picturesqueness. It was the land of the midnight hours. The strange beauty of these wild surroundings was a marvellous uplift to the spirit.

I was amazed in the summer months at the multitude of small flowering plants. It was truly wonderful how these plants could bloom and mature in a few weeks.

The flowers withered, the birds departed. Once more the first snow powdered the granite hills. A plume of smoke appeared on the horizon. It was the Beothic come to take us home.

Then farewell Moosa and Muttu. Goodbye to all my Eskimo friends and the bleak hills that had become as lovely as the blue Laurentians. My Arctic year was over, but it was a year I shall not soon forget.

Reaching the People

A prominent real estate dealer in Toronto says he gets better and quicker results from the Classified Want Ads. than from any other kind of publicity. He states that the results are out of proportion to the small expense involved. There is a moral in that for you if you want to reach the people.

"They're Off!"—In Old Quebec

The eleventh annual Eastern International Dog Sled Derby crowning event of the 1932 Winter Sport season—is scheduled for February 22-24. For those three days, all eyes turn to Quebec City, where each day the fight between the best dog teams in America over a course of 40-odd miles a day is staged. Emil St-Godard, Leonard Seppala, hero of the rush with diphtheria serum to Nome a few years back, are among the contenders, of whom last year there were eleven and this year there will likely be even more. In all, the race covers a distance of 123 miles and the finish is in Quebec itself through crowds of thousands of fans, lining the streets and cheer on the victor.

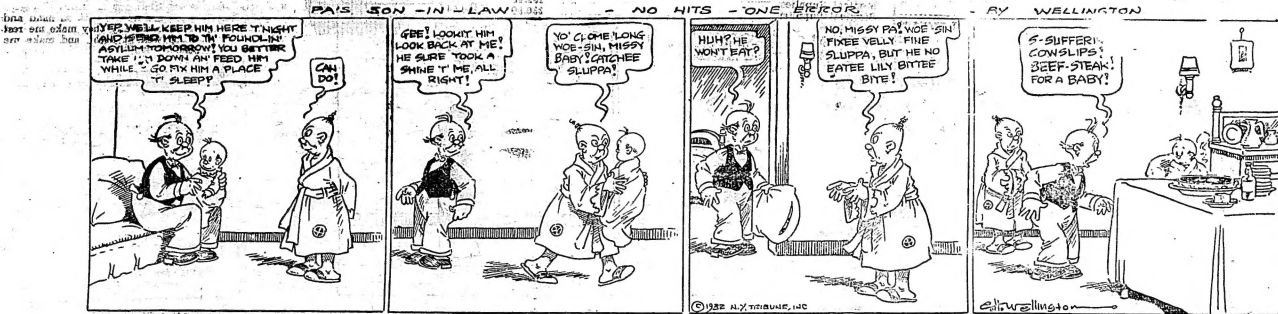

Handsome cash prizes are awarded, but this year interest is much above the usual. St-Godard who has won the race four times in the last five years, has two legs on the Speed Cup and another win this year will give it to him permanently.

Seppala has two legs on the Gold Cup for the best conditioned dog and stands to win it permanently this year. Prizes total $2,160 with a first prize of $800; second prize, $600; third prize, $400; then $200, $100, $75, $50 and $25 in that order. In addition there is the Gold Cup for the best conditioned dog and the Speed Cup awarded to the team making the fastest time for a lap during the three days of racing.

The event winds up with the Dog Derby Costume Ball held at the Chateau Frontenac, the Canadian Pacific's great hotel, on Wednesday, February 24 at which prizes and cups are awarded to the winners.

NEW DISCOVERIES CONFIRM VIRTUES OF BRAN IN DIET

Supplies "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation; Also Iron for Blood

For ten years, now, millions have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, pleasant way to overcome common constipation—with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from this condition.

Recent laboratory tests show that ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. In addition, ALL-BRAN contains twice as much blood-building iron, by weight, as beef liver.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like the "bulk" in lettuce. Inside the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Think how much better it is to enjoy this delicious cereal than to take endless pills and drugs, which often lead to harmful habits.

Two tablespoons daily—in serious cases with every meal—are usually sufficient. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

BATTLE LAKE

Billie Freeman had the misfortune to cut his hand with an axe last week, which made it necessary to take him to the doctor at Wetaskiwin. Several stitches were taken to close the wound.

Miss Daisy Wood is spending a few days at Freeman's.

The roads in the district are still open for cars.

Wyman Fullerton and Morley Williams went to Wetaskiwin last week and brought out a truck load of furniture belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Callum, who have taken up their residence in this district.

BITTERN LAKE

Mrs. P. E. Treasleaves and Mrs. I. Lomas left last Tuesday for Michigan to visit their father who is in failing health.

Mrs. J. G. Baker spent the latter part of last week in Edmonton.

The first two periods were very even. Westerose had a slight advantage, but they could not get the puck past the visiting goalie, who played an excellent game. The final score was Westerose 2, Thorby 5.

DEBATING LEAGUE

Hillside—H. Young, H. Marr and E. R. Hoskins.
Verdun—M. Sears, P. Johnson, W. F. Eikermann.

Judges—J. O. Harvey, J. Orr and A. C. Long.

On account of the condition of the roads, the scheduled debate between Nashville and Coal Lake had to be further postponed. It is now arranged that this will be held at Coal Lake hall on Friday evening, Feb. 12th.

WETASKIWIN PLAYS TIE GAME WITH BASHAW SATURDAY

The Bashaw hockey team came over on Saturday evening last for a friendly game with Wetaskiwin, and after playing full time, the score resulted in a tie, 3-3. On account of the light at fall of snow at the time, the ice was heavy. Both teams, however, worked hard, and the small crowd of enthusiasts enjoyed the encounter. It is expected Wetaskiwin will go to Bashaw this Wednesday evening for a return game.

ATTEMPT NOTHING AND YOU'LL NEVER FAIL

The Prince of Wales, speaking at Alder Hall, on January 27th, said: "I have had my failures, I know, but in these few years with few precedents to guide us, to have had no failures is to have attained nothing."

"There is a danger that some people are getting too used to the present critical situation," he said. "It is not wise waiting for that doubtful thing of a good time coming. We have got to fight, and here I pin my faith to the younger generation, to keep England a bulwark for the cause of men to keep our great heritage in trust for those who come after."

We have here before us today a world sick with fearful doubts and weary with repeated disappointments—a world of troubled nations whose vital need is courageous faith in each other.

"It is an era of potential plenty, when confidence should be supreme, yet we see in every land widespread distress and perplexity. The enemies of today are depression and apathy. Let us attack them with two of our old-fashioned characteristics, good sense and good humor."

38 CHINESE DECIDE TO LET CITY PAY LATE BILL OF $840

Vancouver, Feb. 5.—Crowding the prisoners' dock to overflowing, 38 Chinese, who pleaded guilty to gambling charges, appeared in police court today and in lieu of paying fines accepted 30 days in jail.

Joe Kee, keeper of a place, was fined $50 with the option of 30 days while the others were fined $15 with the same option. All estimated that the fines would not be paid.

Had the convicted men paid their fines, the city revenue would have benefited to the extent of $605, but now the city must pay a bill of $840 for the keep of the prisoners.

C.P.R. WRITES OFF INTEREST ON FARM LANDS ON PRAIRIES

Montreal, Feb. 8.—Voluntary writing off by the Canadian Pacific Railway of interest on land contracts for the year 1931 and other decisions of importance to farmers of Western Canada were announced today at the close of the directors' meeting here by E. W. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president of the company.

The statement follows: "In view of the unusual agricultural situation that has existed in recent months, as a result of world-wide economic conditions, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has decided to further the welfare of farmers on the company's lands in Western Canada by offering new and substantial concessions to its contract holders. In the belief that tangible recognition, by the company, would be of marked help and encouragement to those contract holders possessing the success-making qualities of industry and persistence, it has offered to write off interest on land contracts for the year 1931.

"This offer will be extended to the year 1932 on the condition that the contract holder pays his taxes and one full instalment on his contract this year. Further encouragement in the form of a bonus will be given to those who make payments on account of arrears of interest, the bonus to be in proportion to the payment made.

ACCIDENT PREVENTION

Deaths and disabilities arising out of accidents are daily increasing, and their occurrence demands public attention.

It is a matter of surprise to most people to learn that a very large percentage of all accidents occur in the home. Each one of us, as a citizen, should do his part in making the streets and the highways safe, and particularly should each one of us, for his own sake, and for that of his family, make his own home safe.

Not only are accidents occasionally fatal, but they are, in all cases, costly and painful, even without taking into account the permanent disabilities which may result from them. It is well worth the effort to do what we can to minimize the chances of accidents, and so save lives and prevent pain, disability and expense.

Falls lead to broken bones, fractured skulls, dislocations, and all the ills of twisted joints, and torn muscles and ligaments. The winter season increases these hazards. A little ice on the front steps, your foot slips, and down you come. Falls such as these can be prevented by removing the ice, or by covering it with sand, sawdust or ashes.

In order to reach some top shelf, people will very often mount upon the nearest thing within reach. There is really nothing safe to use for this purpose but a ladder. It is a good accident-prevention measure to keep a short ladder in the house, in some place where it is readily accessible. In this way, it will most likely be used, and the chances of falls will be lessened thereby.

Keeping things in their right place is a preventive measure. It is the article which is out of place that causes some one to trip. It is the cake of soap which is left in the bottom of the bath that someone slips on; if the soap is placed in the soap-holder, it will not cause a fall.

Collections of rubbish, old papers and other discarded articles invite fires. Instead of being cleared out once or twice a year, they should never be allowed to accumulate in the first place. It is just as well to dispose of them today as six months from now.

Garage doors should always be left open when the engine of the car is running. If you will make a practice

WHICH STORES DO YOU LIKE BEST?

ISN'T IT TRUE that stores which invite your custom oftenest, and which give you most information about their offerings, are those to which you go by preference?

ISN'T IT TRUE that silent or dumb stores---stores which never tell you that your custom is wanted and valued, and which never send you information about their stocks and prices, are less favored by you than are stores which inform you by advertisements in this newspaper about themselves, their stocks, their prices?

ISN'T IT TRUE that you want, before you go shopping, information about goods of desire, which are obtainable locally, and about where they can be obtained?

THE FACT IS that advertisements are a form or kind of news, and careful buyers want the kind of news which sellers provide just as much as they want the news which it is the business of this newspaper to provide.

IT IS ADVANTAGEOUS to you, regarded as a purchaser, to be "advertisement conscious," meaning, to be observant of advertisements, and to be readers of them when seen in your local newspaper.

The reading of the advertisements appearing in this newspaper week by week not only will save you time, by telling you what and where to buy; but also they will direct you to "all alive" stores, providing goods which have been carefully selected and competitively priced.

Always remember this: the stores that serve you best are the stores that tell you most!

Edmonton, Feb. 8.—Twelve years' imprisonment at the Prince Albert penitentiary was the sentence imposed upon Charles Fasciano, Harry Huk and Jack Daniels by Chief Justice W. C. Simmons in the Criminal Court on Friday after his lordship had found them guilty of robbery with violence.

The trio were found guilty of holding up Chow Joe at Tofield at the point of a revolver.

In passing sentence, His Lordship stated that he had intended to impose the lash if he found accused guilty, but it had been represented to him that Huk was suffering from tuberculosis and that his physical condition would not permit such a punishment. Therefore, as he was only fair to pass it over in regard to the others.

Mrs. Ray Telford of Edmonton, returned to her home on Saturday, after spending a short time visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rose Killey of Bonnie Glen, and other relatives of the district.

Mesdames Plant and Brinker, accompanied by Miss Jacques, who attended the Mission Conference of the Diocese of Edmonton, report the various meetings as being most beneficial in the way of social and spiritual uplift. Bishop Burgett and three members of the Anglican Clergy addressed the delegates. Rev. Trenchard of Wainwright, speaking of the Women's Auxiliary branches as Watchtowers, "Watchman, what of the night?" forming the basis of his address. It was stated that the Diocese of Edmonton contained sixty-nine branches of the W.A., with one thousand and thirty-nine members.

Here and There

Figures of United States motor cars entering Canada for the year 1931, issued by the provincial bureau of information and tourist travel, show an 8 per cent. gain over 1930. The total for 1931 is 58,583 as compared with the former record of 54,068 for 1930.

Approximately $11,000,000 was expended last year on the cost of construction, dwellings and other buildings in 61 cities owing to reduced cost of building materials. Aggregate value in these cities of building permits was $110,971,410.

The aid of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in London and of Lord Beaverbrook will be sought by the Maritime Provinces representatives who left aboard S.S. Montcalm from Halifax recently, in an effort to secure the lifting of the British Government's embargo on Canadian potatoes.

A railroad career that has seen many changes and covered much widely separated territory witnessed another movement when Robert E. Larmour, general freight agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, was transferred recently from Montreal to Toronto. Mr. Larmour, aside from his railway duties, is well known as one of Canada's outstanding yachtsmen.

Carnival Queen nominations from Edmonton, Drumheller and Vancouver testify to the great popularity of the annual winter carnival to be held February 6 to 13. The Alberta branch of the A.A.U. of Canada has agreed to hold figure skating championships at the carnival and may hold their skid-ding championships at the carnival as well. Every kind of winter sport will be represented.

Entries are coming in rapidly for the great winter event of the 1932 sporting season, the 11th annual Eastern International Dog Sled Derby to be run over a course of 125 miles, spread over the three days February 22-24 and concluding with the Dog Derby Costume Ball at the Chateau Frontenac, February 24. St. Godard, Seppala and other names outstanding in Dog Sled racing are already entered.

The largest shipment of Government-approved cockerels for Canada arrived recently by Canadian Pacific special at Ferguson, Ont., from Winnipeg to the order of J. G. Fiedle, of the former city. The birds were selected by government inspectors from the choicest flocks from British Columbia to Nova Scotia. During the last four years Mr. Fiedle has shipped an average of 200,000 chickens to various points between the Atlantic and Pacific.

Competition between truck and railroad service is shown in a new angle by a letter recently to a Reading paper, "Labor." A cattle raiser of Niobrara, Nebraska, tried out both methods, shipping cattle by truck and by railroad. On the railroad there was a shrinkage of 21 pounds for each animal; by truck there was a shrinkage of 88 pounds each. What the raiser saved on freight he much more than lost on the animals shipped by truck, where the value of the shrinkage amounted to $13.14 on each animal. (CIS)

MILLET LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Ashton of New Norway, is spending a few days in the village the guest of her sister, Mrs. Just.

Rev. H. G. Smith left on Tuesday morning for Ponoka, where he will attend the annual meeting of the Presbytery this week.

The Scouts are looking forward to the parents' evening which they intend to put on Feb. 18th, in the Community hall, and the parents are looking forward to being entertained by the Scouts.

Tuesday was the first day for some time which has looked encouraging as to weather conditions. We notice that the farmers are taking advantage of the day as well as the bonus to come to market with their grain.

A surprise birthday, dance for Fred Winters was held in the Community hall last Friday night, with a large crowd in attendance. The music supplied by the Larch Tree orchestra, was much appreciated. Lunch was served by Mesdames Ted Winter, Fred Winter, Lloyd Wolfe and Just. A fine time was had by all.

The ladies of St. Norberts Altar Society gave a card party in the Zion hall on Monday, Feb. 8th. Court Whist was played until midnight. Miss Gweneith Clark won the ladies' first prize, Richard Bussard men's first prize, Mrs. Herb. Pogue ladies' consolation, and Clifford McManus, men's consolation. After a dainty lunch served by some of the ladies, the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Mr. and Mrs. MacDougal, Miss Niel and C. Moonen furnished the music. Everyone reports a fine time.

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of the village of Millet was held on Feb. 8th in the Community hall, with twenty-eight ratepayers present. Mr. C. S. Bear acted as chairman. The financial statement of the village was read and discussed and was passed on motion of J. A. Shepherd and F. Pacey. It was moved by Robt. West was elected as Councilor by acclamation to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Mr. P. Pinyon.

Retailers

A YOUNG tailor complained bitterly about his poor business. "I make just as good clothes as _____'s do," he said, "and I sell them for less, yet _____'s get most of the business of this district."

This young tailor felt that men ought to find all about him—that they should search him out. He didn't see that it was his job to make known to all men the fact that he made good clothes and sold them at attractive prices. _____'s, on the other hand, advertised their business, and, of course, men went to them for their clothes.

It's the same all the time over—buyers go where they are invited to go. They buy, in largest numbers, from those who give them information about their business, service, goods, prices. This is exactly as it should be.

Why shouldn't the most aggressive seller get most business?

The world likes to buy from keen sellers—from retailers who pay them the compliment of telling them about what they have to sell and about their desire for their custom.

Dumb retailers may be fine men, may give good values, may be first-class store keepers, but the buying public prefers to go where advertisements in their newspapers direct them to go.

The wise retailer runs his business in line with what buyers want, because it is profitable to do so.

It costs a retailer far more NOT to advertise than to advertise.

25,000 MEN OF TWO ROADS TO GET WAGE CUT

Montreal, Feb. 5.—The 25,000 members of the running trades, that is, the locomotive engineers and firemen, trainmen, conductors, yardmen and railway telegraphers, employed by the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways today accepted a ten per cent wage cut for one year and two months, dating from December 1, 1931, to January 31, 1933, and an agreement that effect was signed here early this evening.

The cut was put in force by the railways as from November 16, 1931, following a majority recommendation of a board of arbitration.

LIBRARY NOTES

Among the latest thrillers by the best mystery story writers are the following:

"The Clue of the Silver Key," by Edgar Wallace. Everybody who was anybody in the Victorian age had borrowed money from Hervey Lynne, and most of them had paid it back with considerable interest. When he is found murdered there are plenty of suspects, but how the killer is eventually brought to justice makes an enthralling story.

"The Murder at Hazelmoor" by Agatha Christie. Six members of the little community of Siltford are indulging in an afternoon session of table-turning when there suddenly comes a loud rattle. The name of Trevelyan is spelt out, then the table slowly rocks out the letters Murder. An hour later old Captain Trevelyan is found dead in his temporary residence at Hazelmoor. At first there are plenty of logical suspects, but no clues. Then events move so rapidly that, although you foresee a surprising climax, it is a difficult task to follow the confusing scenes and impossible to guess the clever solution.

Books to interest the girls are "The Golden Road" by L. M. Montgomery, that delightful writer of books usually with backgrounds of Prince Edward Island. This is a story of the adventures of eight young people who live in the country. "Pollyanna of the Orange Blossoms" by Harriet L. Smith. Another "Glad Book," this time telling about Pollyanna's married life.

During the afternoon and evening of last Saturday 140 members borrowed 244 books, and four new members were added, the total membership now being 818.

Strange reports continue from all parts of Ontario regarding spring signs. Robins seem to be quite common, and are unusually plentiful this year. Dandelions are in bloom. Daffodils were reaching toward the sun. Parsies were picked at Huntsville, usually a winter sports resort. A farmer harrowed his land. From Port Perry comes word that apple trees were blooming. Paris dispelled all doubts as to the heat by reporting bees busily humming around.

Bill Slow And Henry Dash

Bill Slow's stock is all out of date, his business is in an awful state — no trade comes to his store. His ribbons, dress goods, coats and hats would scare a belfry full of bats, and cobwebs frame his door. Bill thinks to advertise would cost just twice as much as he has lost in waiting for a buyer.

But Henry Dash across the way, knows advertising's sure to pay — it draws crowds like a fire. So to our office he come down, for the best sales service in the town, announcing special offers. He gives his trade a chance to save; his profits he can closely shave — the volume fills his coffers.

Have our advertising manager call and show you this remarkable Sales Service.
